SELECT SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Letter to Draft a Note to the Turkish Plenipotentiaries Explaining Why the Peace Negotiations Must Be Considered Broken Off—Allied States Sparring to Gain Time. Latest Developments.

London, Jan. 27.—The Balkan plenipotentiaries, who have received full powers from their respective governments, appointed a committee to draft a note to the Turkish plenipotentiaries explaining why the peace conference must now be considered broken off. It is hoped the draft will be ready for approval by the full delegation tonight.

This action of the allies is part of a series of well-considered forms of pressure with which the Balkan delegates hope to obtain their object without resuming the war.

The meeting lasted for an hour and a half, and the course to be followed was given earnest consideration. Two distinct views were manifested—one for the immediate rupture of the negotiations, leading to a resumption of the war, and the other favoring a temporizing policy in order to avoid irrevocable steps.

The latter course triumphed, and a committee was appointed, consisting of one member from each delegation, as follows: Michael Madjaroff, Bulgarian minister at London; Professor Georgios Streit, Greek minister to Austria-Hungary; Count Voynovitch, chief of King Nicholas' cabinet, repre-

LABOR TROUBLE PROSPECTS ARE NOW IMPROVING

EIGHTY THOUSAND RETURN TO WORK

Garment Workers and Employers Reach an Agreement.

ADVANCE IN WAGES GRANTED

Hours of Labor Reduced From the Present Average of Fifty-six to Fifty-two Hours a Week—Employers of Other Clothing Associations Not Affected by the Settlement. Stubborn Stand For an Open Shop.

New York, Jan. 27.—After a series of conferences between committees of the United Manufacturers' and Merchants' association, the locals involved in the strike of the United Garment Workers of America and the contractors, a settlement of the garment workers' strike was reached by which the questions of wages and hours of labor were fixed, all other matters to be settled by arbitration.

When the strike against the members of this association and the contractors is called off, the conferees said, nearly 80,000 of the strikers on men's and boys' garments who are employed in the shops and factories of its members will return to work.

The settlement will not affect those who are on strike in the shops and factories of the members of the National Clothing Trades association, the Associated Boys' Clothing Manufacturers of Greater New York or the American Clothing Manufacturers' association, all of which have decided to stand out for the open shop and refuse to deal with the union or any but their own individual employers.

By the terms of settlement agreed to, week workers receiving less than $12.50 a week will get 10 per cent advance in wages, those earning more than $12.50 a week and less than $15 a week will receive an advance of 7½ per cent, and those receiving $15 a week and over will receive an advance of 5 per cent. The hours of the week will be reduced from the present average of 56 to 52 hours a week.

KILLS HER HUSBAND IN DUEL WITH RAPIERS.

Moscow, Jan. 27.—Madame Madia Putschin killed her husband in a duel with rapiers, to which she had formally challenged him. The Putschins were both professors of fencing and their rooms were crowded every day with fashionable people. One of them was an army officer, who aroused the jealousy of M. Putschin. Mme. Putschin, declaring that her honor had been insulted, sent seconds to her husband. In the duel Madame made a vigorous attack. The husband contented himself with parrying her thrusts but in the third bout his wife's rapier pierced his heart and killed him instantly.

Dan Cupid's Busy Week.

Passaic, N. J., Jan. 27.—Dan Cupid and the clergy of Passaic set a new record during the past seven days, when they united 162 hearts in wedded bliss and sent them sailing happily on the sea of matrimony. This was an average of 1.35 for every thousand of the city's population.

TODAY PROMISES REAL DOINGS

LIQUOR LICENSE LAW ONLY IN THE MAKING

Will Not Be Drafted Until After Final Public Hearing.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—The administration's liquor license bill will not be drafted until the final public hearing tomorrow night before the senate and house committees to which the three pending license bills have been referred. In making the bill the senate committee on temperance, of which Senator Greenlund of Cuyahoga is chairman, and the house committee on liquor traffic, of which Representative Welsh of Ottawa is chairman, will work together and in close communication with the governor's office.

Several conferences have been held but none of the provisions of the new bill have been definitely determined, and the only provision of which there is positive assurance is the adoption of the state board plan as set forth in the brewers' bill.

Delegates to the anti-saloon congress, which met here for a two-day session, probably will adopt resolutions against the brewers' bill and in favor of election of county licensing commissioners on a separate ballot. The congress, meeting prior to the final hearing before the legislative committees, will practically be a petition in boots demanding a license law which can be enforced.

Officers of the Anti-Saloon league will make their hardest fight against the provision of the brewers' bill for jury trials in all cases of liquor law violations, with the jury to be drawn from the township or municipality in which the defendant resides. Their opposition is based on a long and sad experience in attempting to get convictions for such offenses in communities in which there is a strong prejudice against restrictive laws.

Our Engineers to Meet Abroad.

Berlin.—The American Society of Mechanical Engineers has sent word that it will hold its annual meeting in 1913 in Berlin. The final proceedings will take place at the German National museum in Munich. The visitors will tour all the leading German industrial centers under the chaperonage of the German Engineers' association, which is arranging a splendid program of entertainment.

The Duke de Talleyrand and His Son, the Prince de Sagan

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

VISITING nobility always seems to interest us Americans, especially when our guests are as democratic as ourselves. The arrival of the Duke and Duchess de Talleyrand and their three-and-a-half-year-old son, Prince de Sagan, was therefore accorded much notice. They came over from France for a flying two weeks' visit to attend the wedding of Miss Helen M. Gould, sister of the duchess, who was formerly Anna Gould and whose marital experiences attracted wide attention. The duke, with his son in his arms, posed good naturedly for his picture, as shown above. His wife being an American, he said he had a warm spot in his breast for this country and would see that the prince visited us again when he was older.

Senator Watson Sees Era of Unparalleled Prosperity Ahead.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The people of the United States are about to enter upon an era of unparalleled business prosperity, in the opinion of Senator Clarence W. Watson of West Virginia. Senator Watson, who has been absent from Washington during the early part of the session of congress, has returned to conclude his official work before the expiration of his term March 4. The senator is one of the greatest producers and shippers of coal in the country.

"When President-elect Wilson made his Chicago speech, admitting his lack of intimate knowledge of the processes of business, but declaring his purpose to take counsel with the men who do business, an effort was made to misrepresent what he said and what he intended to do. In my opinion the effort has been a failure. The prevailing expression among men whose opinion I value is that Mr. Wilson's Chicago utterance was both wise and patriotic, that his invitation to common counsel must be accepted by business men as made in good faith and with clear understanding by a man able to give bond to 90,000,000 of Americans."

Talking Cat Is Discovered.

Berlin.—A cat named Peter, which is credited with talking and singing powers, has been discovered in Hamburg. Peter, which was trained by his owner, a woman dentist named Sutor, is said to possess almost human intelligence.

Witnesses declare that the cat can distinctly say the German words for "Anna," "hurrah," "more," "Helena," "no" and "enough." Peter also sings three popular tunes, using monosyllabic words.

New York, Jan. 27.—J. M. Gleason, a policeman, was killed, and 20 men, women and children were injured when two elevated trains collided here. Immediately after the collision flames, caused by a short circuit, burst out in the wrecked cars and threatened the lives of the occupants. The motorman in the rear train was burned, but escaped through a window.

Electrotypers Go On Strike.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Explains Purposes of Bureau.

EXPERT STUDY OF PROBLEM

George J. Kneeland, Who Directed Chicago Vice Inquiry, and Abraham Flexner, Medical Examiner, Preparing Reports—Social Hygiene Organization's Fight on the Prevalent Social Evil.

New York, Jan. 27.—Among the foremost men of the country who have given serious and critical consideration of the social evil with a view toward its human and scientific abatement is John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Ever since he sat as foreman of the grand jury in New York about two years ago Mr. Rockefeller has been keenly interested in discovering a sensible plan for curtailing the white slave traffic. He was largely instrumental, both financially and personally, in the organization of the bureau of social hygiene, started with the deep and earnest purpose of thoroughly investigating the present conditions of the social evil and of eradicating them in so far as possible. Mr. Rockefeller now makes public the following interesting and important statement as to the origin, work and plans of the bureau:

"The bureau of social hygiene came into existence about two years ago as a result of the work of the special grand jury appointed to investigate the white slave traffic in New York city, which served during the first half the year 1910. One of the recommendations made at the termination of its labors was that a public commission be appointed to study the social evil. The foreman of that body subsequently gave careful consideration of the character of the work which might properly be done by such a commission and the limitations under which it would operate.

"So the conviction grew that in order to make a real and lasting improvement in conditions a permanent organization should be created, the continuation of which would not be dependent upon a temporary wave of reform nor upon the life of any man or group of men, but which would go on, generation after generation, continuously making warfare against the forces of evil.

Members of the Bureau.

"Therefore, as the initial step, in the winter of 1911 the bureau of social hygiene was formed. Its present members are Miss Katherine Bement Davis, superintendent of New York State Reformatory for Women at Bedford Hills, N. Y.; Paul M. Warburg of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Company; Starr J. Murphy of the New York bar and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. As the work develops new members may be added.

"One of the first things undertaken by the bureau was the establishment at Bedford Hills, adjacent to the reformatory, of a laboratory of social hygiene under Miss Davis' direction. In this laboratory it is proposed to study from the physical, mental, social and moral side each person committed to the reformatory.

"Arrangements were made, therefore, in the early part of last winter, to secure the services of George J. Kneeland, who had directed the Chicago vice commission investigation. Since that time Mr. Kneeland, with a corps of assistants, has been making a thorough and comprehensive survey of the conditions of vice in New York city.

"At the same time the bureau was fortunate in securing the services of

By Hugh C. Weir.

The perspiring traveling man with only five minutes left to catch the New York train, snapped open his watch again with a groan as he failed a third time to worm a way through the ranks of marching men. Before him and behind him, the parade of cheering figures stretched its way in an unbroken and seemingly never ending chain, with banners flapping, and torches flaring, and bands crashing. Seldom had the staid old Quaker City of Philadelphia witnessed such a spectacle.

The traveling man retreated to the curb and gathered his muscles for a fresh effort. What was the purpose of the mammoth parade? It was not a political demonstration, for there was no campaign on. It was not the celebration of a baseball or football victory. And just as certainly it was not a business pageant. The traveling man abandoned the questions as he dived again into the close-packed ranks. This time, he reached the opposite curb. Disheveled and panting, he dashed down the steps of the Broad Street station barely in time to swing himself onto the last New York sleeper. A man on the platform watched him with a grin.

"Been held up by the parade?" he queried genially.

The traveling man nodded ruefully as he straightened his neck tie. "I never saw anything like it before!" he cried. "And what in the name of heaven is it for anyway? What are they celebrating?"

"Nothing!" answered the genial man. "It was just a parade of the delegates to the State Bible Study convention."

The traveling man gasped. "Bible Study convention! Why, there must have been thousands in that parade!"

"Twenty-seven thousand men and boys!" volunteered his neighbor.

"And do you mean to tell me that all of them came here just for a Bible Study convention?"

"I guess that's about the size of it! There are something like five thousand organized Bible study classes in Pennsylvania!"

"Well—well, I'll be blowed!" ejaculated the traveling man. And for an hour he sat in the smoking car, chewing an unlighted cigar, and trying to grasp the immensity of the idea. Twenty-seven thousand men and boys marching under a Bible study banner! Five thousand Bible study classes in the state! The traveling man drew a long, deep breath. He had been accustomed to think of the Bible as something dust-dry, something belonging to another age, which men of today have outgrown. This was a revelation.

Dr. Franklin McElfresh told this story to the men of Washington C. H. at Grace M. E. church yesterday afternoon. There were two reasons for the story. One was the emphasis of the wide-spread Bible study movement that has swept this country in the span of the last five years. The second and perhaps more pointed reason for the story was the campaign which yesterday was formally launched for the formation of a dynamic Men's Bible Study class of Washington C. H. and Fayette county. There have been Bible Study classes in this city and this country before. There are Bible Study classes here today. The projected organization will be formulated on new lines and will have a new mission. Before I elaborate in detail the details of this mission, let me devote a personal paragraph to Dr. McElfresh: Dr. McElfresh, the virtue pastor who built the present magnificent Grace church 17 years ago. Of course, he needs no introduction, at least to the older generation, no introduction as a man. Washington, however, will be pleased to learn that since the days of his local pastorate, his talents have commanded national attention, and he has been called to the teacher training staff of the International Sunday School union—a position which keeps him on an almost constant itinerary from coast to coast. It was the same vigorous, human, genial Dr. McElfresh of old that Washington welcomed yesterday. The new honors that have come to him have not changed any of the qualities which the community learned to love 20 years ago.

The visit of Dr. McElfresh came at a singularly opportune time. For weeks the theme of a centralized organized, electrified Men's class has been under consideration at Grace church. Dr. McElfresh with his national experience crystallized the discussion into action. At a men's meeting at the church yesterday afternoon, 70 men signed applications for charter membership in such a class, and it is confidently predicted that the organization will reach a membership of several hundred. From several angles, the movement is of peculiar significance to this community.

It will emphasize the spirit of social service. It will reach out into the county and endeavor to bring nearer the country and the town. It will formulate a definite plan for civic betterment. It will seek to bring the church closer to men, and the men closer to the church. And it will endeavor to harness the resources of the church to definite, practical tasks. Out of the project, a federation of such classes throughout the county is possible. Ashland, Ohio, has a membership of one thousand men and boys in four such classes at the present time.

While in the city Dr. McElfresh was a guest of Mrs. Ruth Brownell. Henry Brownell with his accustomed progressiveness and community spirit seized the opportunity to tender a complimentary supper to the doctor Saturday night at the Cherry hotel, at which were present 21 of the members of Mr. Brownell's newly organized Sunday School class of boys, in addition to several adult guests. By the way, Mr. Brownell's class will endeavor to develop among the boys of the community much the same type of Bible study and social service that was launched yesterday for the men, and with the hearty, vigorous spirit of Mr. Brownell back of it, its success is assured.

In this connection, the audience last night at Grace church was significant—an audience of more than one thousand persons, one of the largest Sunday evening congregations in the history of the church. The audience was attracted by the fourth in the series of sermons which Rev. Frederick F. Ross is preaching under the general title of "Live Questions for Live People," last night's discourse centering around the pertinent query, "Heaven—What and Where Is It?" Dr. Ross has made a really remarkable success with his series, in his efforts to emphasize the great human questions of the gospel. The series of special meetings which the church is planning during February should smash all kinds of records, with the qualities of such a man behind them. Dr. Ross is bringing a new message to Washington—and Washington is showing that she appreciates it.

Rev. W. I. Campbell Of Presbyterian Church Tenders Resignation

Announcement From Pulpit Yesterday Morning Came as Complete Surprise to Congregation.

HAS SERVED HERE THREE YEARS

While Rev. Campbell Has Several Calls Under Consideration, He Will Probably Devote Some Time to Travel Before Accepting a Charge.

Rev. William Irving Campbell tendered his resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city at the regular Sunday morning service of yesterday. The resignation is to take effect at the close of the third year of his pastorate, the first of March, if it can be arranged; but if inconvenient to the church Rev. Campbell will remain until the first of April in order to take care of the Easter classes.

The resignation came as a thunder-bolt from a clear sky to the congregation and was received with expressions of regret and sorrow.

Few pastors have been more earnest and conscientious in their labors than Rev. Campbell and his success in adding new members to the church has been notable. Last year there were eighty-five accessions to the church and there are now in preparation a number for the Easter classes.

A scholarly man and thoroughly in tune with the present day spirit of progressiveness, Rev. Campbell has been active in every movement of civic and moral reform in our city and one of the promoters of the Men and Religion Forward movement, which was instigated last year. He has been no less active in the preliminary work of the Y. M. C. A. and has built up an exceptional Men's Bible class in the Sunday school of his church.

Rev. Campbell has several calls to other churches, under consideration, but will not accept any for the present. He has not had a rest of any length for 15 years and feels the need of it. From here he expects to go to his former home in Washington, D. C., and afterwards spend some time in travel.

It is hoped by his church and congregation that Rev. Campbell will remain through the Easter season.

A man of his purposefulness and the courage of his convictions cannot but be missed from the entire community.

Four Persons Injured When Horses Frighten

One Young Woman Suffers Broken Wrist, Young Man Is Seriously Injured and Two Others Escape With Ugly Bruises in Thrilling Experience Saturday Night.

A very serious runaway accident, or rather two runaway mishaps, which came near resulting in the fatal injury of two young men and two young women occurred between nine and ten o'clock Saturday night near the home of Roy Parrett south of Good Hope, and as a result of the thrilling experience, Miss Lelia Harvout is suffering from a broken wrist, Russel Tudor is recovering from injuries at first thought serious if not fatal, and Miss Inez Rodgers and Oscar McCoy are nursing very painful injuries.

The mishap occurred on the driveway at the Parrett residence, the young people driving down from this city to visit Miss Rodgers' sister. Mr. Tudor and Miss Harvout were in the first rig and Mr. McCoy and Miss Rodgers were in a rig immediately following the first.

Upon arriving at the Parrett residence they stopped upon the driveway in front of the house, and the front rig backed into the one behind, causing both horses to frighten and whirl about, overturning both rigs.

At the point where the affair took place there is a steep embankment, and the rig containing Miss Harvout and Mr. Tudor turned over twice before landing in the ditch. The horse then ran away, tearing the buggy up.

So quickly did the mishap take place that it was all over in a few seconds, and it was then found that Miss Harvout's right wrist was broken, and Mr. Tudor was unconscious, while the other two of the party were badly cut and bruised, and all were suffering intensely.

Physicians were summoned and rendered all aid in their power. Mr. Tudor was unconscious all of Saturday night, and is still in a condition regarded as serious, but with hopes of recovery. He was kicked by one of the horses.

Miss Harvout returned home Sunday, and Miss Rodgers Monday afternoon. The young man most seriously injured will remain at the Parrett home for the time being.

Would Regulate The "Moovies"

Motion picture exhibitors were informed recently of the drafting of a new state law. Censorship of all films used in Ohio is provided for. All films are to be taxed $1.00, and no film exhibited unless approved by a state board. This board is to be composed of a chairman, to receive $2,000 per year, the other members $1,500, and a secretary can be employed at a salary of $1,200.

The exhibitors also propose a law licensing operators. Those receiving an average grade of between 81 and 100 per cent. in the efficiency examinations will be given a two year license, those below such average grade, a one year license, and they can serve only in theaters of 300 seats or less. At the end of the license period another examination must be held. Operators with a two-year license can have their time extended on payment of $5.00. A board of examiners is also provided. Any person violating the law will be fined not less than $50 nor more than $500.

The Ohio Exhibitors' League has approved this law which is in conformity with suggestions advanced by Governor Cox.

MRS. HOWARD WAGNER.

Writes Personal Letter to Her Druggist About a Bad Cough.

Mrs. Howard Wagner, of Milton, Pa., writes her druggist as follows: "For two months I suffered from a bad cold, from which I could get no relief, then I began to cough and would cough until midnight every night. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine, but without benefit. One day seeing Vinol, your cod liver and iron medicine advertised in my paper, I sent for a bottle. After taking it the second day I did not cough so much and felt stronger, and at the end of a week I could go to bed and sleep without coughing once. I have now taken in all, six bottles, and I never felt better in my life. I have a fine appetite and have gained twelve pounds. As Vinol has helped me so much I want others to know about it."

The curative and strengthening properties of Vinol built up Mrs. Wagner's health and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

THE WRONG WORD.

There is no word in the English language which really means so much, which appeals so strongly to the highest and best in men, conveys such a wealth of good as does the word "beautiful". While that is true, it is also regrettably true that there is no word in the English language which is used with more carelessness and looseness than this same word "beautiful." That word implies more than a description of the physical being. It is expressive of admiration for the appearance of the real wholesome goodness which shines out through feature and form.

Some of the newspapers and news-gathering agencies use and emphasize the use of that wonderfully expressive word of three syllables, in describing human beings, shown, conclusively by the facts forming its setting, to be moral perverts.

Rarely are the stories of the sensational escapades of women anything but admirable in their lives, their characters or their reputations, recounted in the public prints unstudied by the word "beautiful". All this evidently, with a purpose to make the sensational more sensational. The idea that beautiful women could be guilty of the conduct which some of the news stories of the day tell us, is in the opinion of the writers more readable, more thrilling, and the main actor is pictured as something which she is not—something which she cannot be.

The attempt of the newswriters, if possible of performance would result in a story more sensational, of course, than the plain true facts. While that is true, it should be remembered that to make such a story a true story, the general order of things must be changed and the impossible made the possible. That condition has never happened yet and all human experience and all human history teaches us that it never will and never can happen.

To the normal reader the wrongful use of the word "beautiful" tends to detract from the force of the narrative because it stamps the tale as false at least in part, and thus casts a shadow of suspicion over the whole narrative.

If those whose business and whose duty it is to recount the stories of the day would picture their characters in words justified by the truth and the controlling facts they would add weight and interest to their stories and at the same time relieve a good wholesome word from the burden of abuse.

Owing to the frequency and the looseness with which the word "beautiful" is used as descriptive of human beings, it can be safely estimated that in that connection its use is not justified in ninety-nine per cent. of the times it is found in the news of the day.

CHANGING WEATHER.

A rim of blue wind round the West,
A streak of olive like a crest
Above the dark and purple clouds Hung there like monumental shrouds;
A veering compass, never still,
But swerving at the breeze's will
Or when the constant eddy swings
And through the boughs the hot wind sings.

A flying sail of cloud across
The first month moon of silver floss;
A night bird crying up the sky
As if not knowing where to fly;
An eerie feeling out of door,
A strange pulsation on the shore,
With voodoo chattering of the waves
As if they talked of ghosts and graves.

A sense of something sultry through
The kissing wind that comes to woo
The May flower forth in January—
A twilight all upside, contrary.
And ever through the moaning pines
That bank of blue wind, with its lines
Of jagged guards upon advance
Leading the sky a merry dance.

A silence then a sudden swing
Of wind as though, a living thing,
It strode the earth and swept the sea—
And once again the night is free,
The stars are clear, the moon is bright,
The mist has blown beyond the sight,
The warmth has fled, the air is chill.
A roaring monster beats the hill,
And round the house the squalls are ranged—
The wind's northwest, the weather's changed.

Court Dissolves The Injunction

In the case of Wilbur Harper against the Herod's Creek Oil & Gas Company, which has been pending in the Common Pleas court of Ross county, the court dissolved the injunction, following a motion made by the defendant.

The action permits the company to proceed with the drilling unless a restraining order is issued by a higher court. Attorney Lyle S. Evans, representing the plaintiff, gave notice of appeal.

It will be recalled that the injunction proceedings resulted when the company went upon the Harper lands to clean out an oil well drilled some two years ago, with a view to pumping it or drilling it deeper, and if a good showing of oil was found, to drill other wells.

FEDERAL LOANS TO AID FARMERS

Congressman Bathrick Would Create a Bureau.

PROPOSES A BOND ISSUE.

Ohio Representative's Bill Suggests Government Paying 4 Per Cent For Raising Needed Money and Charging Farmers 4½ Per Cent.

Washington.—An original federal financial scheme was laid before the house of representatives for enactment into law when Representative E. R. Bathrick of Ohio proposed that the United States government embark on the business of loaning money to farmers on mortgages on their lands. The Bathrick idea is radically different from the agricultural credit plan of Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, which President Taft brought to the attention of a score of state governors in a recent conference at the White House. Mr. Herrick proposed that the state governments and ultimately the federal government enact legislation to encourage and enable the farmers to form rural credit associations which would lend money to the farmers, but his scheme does not contemplate that the nation or the states go into the business of lending money to farmers. Representative Bathrick is in accord with the purpose of the Herrick rural credit plan, but does not believe the problem will be solved through the formation of rural credit associations. At one stroke he thinks the federal government should go into the business of lending money direct to the farmers, not on second mortgages, but on the unencumbered land of the farmers, to be mortgaged to the government as security. The government would charge the farmer interest at the rate of 4½ per cent and would issue 4 per cent bonds for the purpose of obtaining the money to be loaned.

The Bathrick idea is embodied in a bill, which he introduced, providing for the creation of a bureau of farm loans by the United States government to loan money to "bona fide tillers of the soil, taking as security for said loans farm mortgages."

Under the Bathrick bill the secretary of the treasury would be "authorized and directed to prescribe forms, procedure and regulations for the conduct of the business of the bureau of farm loans, to borrow money from time to time on the credit of the United States in whatever sums are required to make the said loans and to prepare and issue coupon or registered bonds of the United States, bearing not in excess of 4 per cent interest, payable annually and redeemable as he may prescribe, provided that the total sum due upon said farm loans annually shall bear as close relation as possible to the total sum of the redeemable bonds and interest payable thereon and that no loans shall be made except to those actually engaged in farming nor upon farm lands which have not at least one-half of the acreage under cultivation."

It is further provided by the Bathrick bill that whenever the "commissioner of the bureau of loans shall have ascertained that the value of the farm land offered as security is sufficient and that the applicant or applicants are possessed of a good and sufficient title to said property and are otherwise legally competent to execute a mortgage thereon he shall, in written form, recommend to the treasurer of the United States that the loan be made to said applicant or applicants, and the treasurer shall, upon receipt of the mortgage, properly drawn in favor of the treasurer of the United States, out of the funds provided by this act pay over to the mortgagor the sum specified in the mortgage, but no loan shall be made in excess of 80 per cent of the value of the property, and the rate of interest on said loans shall not exceed 4½ per cent. The said bonds and mortgages and the interest thereon shall be exempt from all taxes and duties of the United States as well as from taxation in any form or under state, municipal or local authority."

The Body Lives After We Are Dead

By Dr. ALEXIS CARREL,
Winner of Nobel Prize
For Medicine and Surgery

THERE are two kinds of death—general death, or death of the whole organism, and elemental death, or death of the tissues and organs.

AT THE MOMENT A MAN DIES EVERY HEALTHY ORGAN IN HIM CONTINUES TO LIVE FOR AN APPRECIABLE SPACE OF TIME AND WILL CONTINUE TO LIVE INDEFINITELY IF THE PROPER CIRCULATION OF BLOOD IS RESTORED TO IT BY TRANSPLANTATION TO A LIVING BODY.

A man, for instance, is stabbed through the heart and killed. His PERSONALITY HAS DISAPPEARED. He is dead.

However, all the organs and tissues which compose the body are STILL LIVING.

The life of every tissue and organ of the body could go on if a proper circulation were given back to them. If it were possible to transplant immediately after death the tissues and organs which compose the body into other human organisms no elemental death would occur, and all the constituent parts of the body would CONTINUE TO LIVE. The man, however, would be DEAD, for his PERSONALITY would have disappeared.

Immediately after general death ELEMENTARY DEATH begins. It is a complex and slow process which progressively destroys the living matter. We cannot know directly whether or not a tissue is living and by what chemical or physical peculiarities a living being differs from its corpse.

THERE IS NO RE-AGENT OF LIFE.

REGULAR OLD TIME EXPERIENCE IN THE WEST

TREED BY MOUNTAIN LION

Boy Has Thrilling Experience With the Weather Below Zero.
Butte, Mont., Jan. 27.—For 15 hours 15-year-old Frank Engstrom of Georgetown, a mining camp near Anaconda, was treed by a mountain lion while the thermometer registered below zero. Today the little fellow was brought to Butte and two frozen legs had to be amputated in an effort to save his life. The boy was sent on an errand from his home to Anaconda, a distance of 10 miles. About midway between the two places, on the shores of Echo lake, he saw the skulking form of a big mountain lion in the timber, and the boy climbed a pine tree for safety. The beast took up a waiting position at the foot of the tree and for five hours kept up his hungry vigil. The extreme cold finally drove the lion back to the forest. When the boy's physical suffering had overcome his fear, he descended from his station in the tree and retraced his way to his home, crawling most of the way.

LAI D AWAY FOR ALL TIME

Fitting and Impressive Ceremonies Over Remains of John Paul Jones.
Annapolis, Md., Jan. 27.—In the fitting surroundings of the splendid chapel, the architectural crown of the great group of buildings in which the American naval officers of the future are being trained, the body of John Paul Jones, the first great naval fighter of the nation, was laid away in the crypt specially prepared to keep it safely for all time. In view of the elaborate ceremonies with which the body was welcomed to this country on July 24, 1905, and when it was transferred to Bancroft hall on April 24 of the following year, the ceremonies were simple, but they were in every way fitting and impressive.

CUT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." A mean stuffy cold, with hoarse wheezy breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifle with such serious conditions but take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. Contains no opiates. Blackmer & Tanquary. Adv.

BUCKEYE STATE HAPPENINGS

Retains Two Republicans.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—State Auditor Vic Donahey announced his intention of retaining the heads of the state accounting bureau as it was taken over by him from the administration of his predecessor, E. M. Pullington. The heads of this department are Joseph T. Tracey of Portsmouth, W. R. Niven of Bellefontaine and Samuel R. Hudson of Marysville. This announcement occasioned some surprise, inasmuch as two of the three—Tracey and Hudson—are Republicans.

Advocate Free Anti-Toxin.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—If resolutions adopted at the meeting of Ohio boards of health are followed up by legislative action each person in Ohio needing it will be furnished diphtheria antitoxin without cost. A policy of forcing local health officials to do their duty in their respective communities was advocated at the meeting by Dr. Eugene F. Campbell, secretary of the state board of health.

Three Employees Let Out.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—State Fire Marshal John W. Zuber announced he had discharged three of his assistants—Charles Herzer of Paulding, David B. Sharp of Columbus and Samuel Davis of Columbus. "I fired them for incompetency," said Zuber. "We were removed because we might have been able to hurt Zuber's chances for re-appointment," said Davis, Herzer and Sharp.

Freight Sections In Collision.

Steubenville, O., Jan. 27.—Two sections of Wabash railroad freight trains came together at Mingo Junction, and six cars laden with merchandise and electric machinery were hurled over the sides of a 40-foot bridge to the tracks of the Wheeling Traction company. All cars were completely wrecked. Brakeman J. C. Schaeffer of Brewster was injured.

Eight American Scouts Killed.

Manila, Jan. 27.—The local wireless station has picked up an unsigned message which gives the first news of the death of Captain McNally of the Philippine scouts and ten of his men in a fight with Moros. Three of those who lost their lives were lieutenants. The scouts also had 14 wounded. The loss of the Moros was not given.

Kent Minister Dead.

Kent, O., Jan. 27.—Rev. J. H. Hedges, 61, pastor of the Kent Lutheran church, is dead. He was ill a week with pneumonia. He came here a year ago, succeeding Rev. Abraham Miller, who died with the same disease. He had filled pulpits at Berlin Center, Minerva, Osnaburg, Lordsburg and North Industry.

Manufacturer Shot.

Mansfield, O., Jan. 27.—Frank P. Black, president of the Ohio Brass company, was shot and seriously wounded. The police say Frank Brumenschenkel shot him. When Black passed the Brumenschenkel home five shots were fired at him, one lodging in the left shoulder. Brumenschenkel was arrested.

Lad Drowns In Pond.

Ravenna, O., Jan. 27.—Emerson Kohl, 14, was drowned when he fell out of a boat. Kohl could not swim, and Carl Russel, a companion, was unable to save him. The accident occurred in a small pond near here.

Wife Found Dead In Bed.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 27.—The police are unable to solve the mystery of the death of Mrs. Artie Johnson, who was shot and killed in her bedroom in the residence district. Mrs. Johnson, who had spent the day with her husband and child, retired to the bedroom, and an instant later a shot was fired. She was found dead in bed. No reason for suicide can be given.

NO MORE CONSTIPATION.

It's Me for Olive Tablets!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take the children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two Little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

HOW COUNTY ROADS ARE TO BE IMPROVED

All Highway Laws Will Be Brought Into One Statute.

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—There are approximately 80,000 miles of wagon roads in Ohio outside of those thoroughfares which are included in the main market roads and intercounty highways.

For years laws have been passed by the general assembly relating to these roads, but under varying conditions became in part or wholly without effect. This has been shown strikingly during the past year where numerous suits were commenced to secure an interpretation of the laws.

In order to correct this misunderstanding and bring all the laws into one comprehensive statute, two codification bills have been introduced in the present legislature. by Senator Hudson and Representative Hite, the chairmen of the committee on public highways in the two branches.

The measures describe in detail how roads other than main market and intercounty highways, which are state-aid thoroughfares, are to be improved and in a measure change the supervision of the work.

Chapter four of the bill looms up big in importance. By it the surveyor in each county is made the county highway superintendent and given full authority over the construction and maintenance of the roads under his jurisdiction.

The county superintendent is also to prepare a good road map of the county, so designed that he can keep an account of all the work done and the money expended on each road in the county.

The county superintendent is given full authority in road drainage and must look to it that the ditches are always open and the highways dry as a powder mill.

It is impossible to keep a dirt road in good condition unless frequently dragged, and the new proposed law looks to this.

If there are dissatisfied persons who do not concur with the authorities as to the advisability of improving a road, appeal may be taken from the final order of the commissioners and the trustees to the probate court.

The commissioners are given four methods of procedure in the matter of the construction of a public road under their supervision. They can act on a petition signed by 25 per cent of the abutting property owners; on petition signed by 25 per cent of the property owners within one mile on either side of the improvement and at the ends; on a resolution unanimously adopted by the board of county commissioners and on agreement between the commissioners and the township trustees.

SAFE OPENED BY TRUMPET.

And Another Can Be Opened Only by Sounding a Tuning Fork.

London.—The indefatigable Thorne Baker has brought out yet another novelty, a safe that can only be opened with a tuning fork or a note on a trumpet. Three of these remarkable inventions have just been brought to a practical issue by Mr. Baker.

One of these safes will only open when a note is sounded three times with a tuning fork, which is placed on a certain spot on the safe. Another safe can only be opened by blowing a loud note on an organ pipe near the safe door. Mr. Baker, describing the mechanism, said:

"Inside the safe there is a sensitive wire, which responds to the note sounded by the tuning fork or the organ pipe. This wire is connected with an electric battery, which sets in motion the mechanism of the locks. There are three locks fitted as extra safeguards, and they are opened one after the other by the sounding of three notes.

"The advantages of this safe are obvious. Explosives are often introduced into safes through the keyholes, but these safes have none. There is only one note to which the interior mechanism will respond, and how probable is it that a burglar will carry a fork tuned quite accurately?"

Township Sunday School Convention

The Union Township Sunday School convention held in the Christian church Sunday afternoon proved a meeting of much enthusiasm and interest that it cannot fail to incite fresh zeal in Sunday school work all over the county.

It was the first township convention held in this city in years and the church was crowded. Every Sunday school in the county was represented and the city ministers and their congregations were well represented.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Supt. E. T. Evans, Miss Etta Rannels, superintendent Teachers' Training department, presided.

The first half hour was taken up by Dr. Franklin McElfresh, of Chicago, superintendent of the Educational department of the International S. S. association. Dr. McElfresh delivered an able address along the line of the new ideas being advanced in Teachers' Training and Organized Bible School work.

Following this address the various departments of Sunday school work were taken up by the county officers and their distinctive missions treated in excellent talks, full of encouragement.

The speakers were Mrs. Frank Haynes, superintendent Home department; Mrs. S. E. Boggs, of Good Hope, and Miss Daisy Cockerill, of the Elementary department; Mr. F. Simms, of the Temperance department; Mr. M. S. Haynes, of Bloomingburg, of the Finance department; Mrs. Quincey Kinkaid, of Bloomingburg, Department of Missions; Miss Etta Rannels, superintendent Teachers' Training department, conducted an intensely interesting symposium in which a number of those who had taken the Teachers' Training course gave voluntary testimony. These testimonials were all highly eulogistic of the benefits gained through this course. Miss Rannels has few equals as an instructor in this important branch of the work.

'EXCEEDING THE SPEED LIMIT.'

Antony Mars' musical farce, "Exceeding the Speed Limit," which has just concluded a run in Chicago, will be the attraction at the Hartman theater the night of Feb. 3. It is the vehicle by which Carter DeHaven is being introduced to the American theatergoers as a star and his first attempt in this field of endeavor has been eminently successful. Supporting Mr. DeHaven are Flora Parker, Clara Palmer, Marlon Bell, Frederick Bond, John L. Kearney, Albert Parker and Jay Wilson. The farce is in three acts with fourteen musical numbers. The story deals with the troubles of a gay young man overburdened with money and a penchant for the gay life.

Chickens Drive Ducks From Pond and Take Swim

This Followed a Brandy Peach Orgie and a Unique Fowl Cake Walk.

The spectacle of eleven buff cochins, one buff rooster, seven bantams, nine Minorcas and three Connecticut gray Rodneys swimming merrily back and forth on Frank Rue's duck pond, at Cedar Grove, N. J., while all the ducks stood on the bank, cheered and dug worms with their web-feet set the gossips of the fair village off into an ear-splitting cackle.

Until Duckologist Rue explained the wherefore of this untoward conduct in his poultry Board of Trade the wildest sort of rumors were in circulation. Some thought that the Rue fowl were bewitched.

"My wife had two jars of brandied peaches that blew out. That is, fermentation set in and the lids left the tops of the jars with a loud report. Realizing that the peaches had worked, Mrs. Rue threw them out into the yard. This was in the evening after the poultry had gone to bed. At dawn my man, Olaf Hammerplotzowitch, released the fowl from their various enclosures. The moment they got out they were attracted by the pungent aroma of the brandied peaches and devoured them.

"On top of the henry I saw Gen. Kuropatkin, my oldest Minorca rooster. He was laying on his back, kicking his feet in the air and crowing hysterically. A few feet from him Nebuchadnezzar, my fortune telling drake, was stretched out flat, his head hanging limply over the eaves and his eyes blinking feebly. He had every appearance of being paralyzed drunk.

"But it was not until I reached the duck pond that I was perfectly dumfounded. Roosters and chickens were rushing blindly into the water and sucking their heads under as if in an effort to cool them.

"It is all a fallacy, Mr. Smith, about chickens being unable to swim. Inflamed as they were by those brandied peaches, they swam about boldly and gracefully. Not that, but they drove the ducks off the pond.

"I don't know how long those chickens and roosters would have remained out there on the pond, if a water snake hadn't come up to the surface. I never saw such panic among poultry before. It much resembled a stampede in the psychopathic ward at Bellevue Hospital, when a parade of elephants goes by.

"I suppose the ducks are back on the pond again, and the chickens are scratching gravel as usual," ventured George Henry Smith.

"Yes; that is, since the big rain the ducks have been in the pond. But there were three days when there wasn't any pond."

"What do you mean?" asked George Henry Smith, his eyes widening with astonishment.

"I mean just what I say," snapped back the duckologist. "The next morning after my poultry had devoured those brandied cherries, they were smitten with a terrific thirst and drank the pond dry. The ducks drank it up on one side and the chickens on the other. They not only drank my pond dry, but almost emptied the well."

"I suppose," said G. H. Smith, a glint of suspicion flickering in his eye, "that they drew the water from

"No," replied Mr. Rue. "They did not use the bucket at all. They got the garden hose out of the cellar, let half of it down the well and ran the other half down hill. BOYS AND TIPPETS.

Once All Boys Wore Them, Now Very Few; a Man Wants to Know Why
"Why," said Mr. Oldsby, "why, I'd like to know, don't boys wear tippets any more? When I was a boy every boy wore a knitted wollen tippet. Some of these were white, some of them were red, some of them were of mixed colors. Some were finished with fringe of the same material on the ends, more of them had on each end a tassel made of the wool; the fringe used to get ragged with wear and rough handling or one or both of the tassels on a tasselled tippet was sure soon to get torn off.

"Many of these tippets that the boys wore were knitted at home by their mothers; many of them were bought in stores; every dry goods store kept tippets, you could always see a line of them hanging up in the store; and in those days every boy wore one. They would take a turn or two of their tippet around their neck and then make one loose tie in it, not a knot, and let the ends hang down from front or back. See a lot of boys in winter going to or from school of sliding down hill or skating and you'd see around the necks of these boys as many tippets.

"But where are the tippets now and why did the boys stop wearing them? Boys are not any harder now than they used to be, are they? Or did they come to think that tippets looked girlish, sissified?"—New York Sun.

Y. M. C. A. LOSES A DOUBLE-HEADER

Columbus Athletics Prove Too Much for Locals, and Score of Saturday Night's Game Stood 35 to 24 in Favor of Visitors. High School Defeats Second Y. M. C. A. Five.

Both Y. M. C. A. teams went down to defeat Saturday night, the Columbus Athletics defeating the regular team by a 35 to 24 score, and the High school team carrying off the game in a clash with the second Y. M. C. A. team, 17 to 12 being the score.

Chuck full of confidence, expecting to pile up a big score, such as they have always done elsewhere, the Athletics started in like a whirlwind, making four points right off the reel, but were soon knocked into a cocked hat by the aggressiveness of the local boys, and from that time on until the end of the first half Washington led with a small margin, the first half ending 12 to 11 in favor of the Y. M. C. A.'s.

In the last half Columbus, realizing they had no chinch before them, put fresh men into the fray and got down to good, consistent playing. Experience, for none of them had less than 7 years and some 10 and 12 years, height, weight and accurate goal shooting soon put them in the lead, which they steadily increased until the final whistle of the last half, ending 24 to 12.

Columbus Athletics rank among the best basketball teams of the state

WILL MAKE GOOD HIS CLAIMS FOR CURE

FRIEDMANN COMING

Will Prove His Assertions That He Has Found a Tuberculosis Cure.

New York, Jan. 27.—Charles E. Finlay, president of the Aetna National bank, who offered last week to pay $1,000,000 to Dr. F. F. Friedmann of Berlin if he would bring his supposed cure for tuberculosis to this country and have it proved effective, said that he knew that Mr. Friedmann would surely bring his culture here in person and that he would sail for the United States within a couple of weeks.

"I have insisted upon his coming," said Mr. Finlay. "His brother, who is here in New York has received a cable from him telling him that he is ready to start for New York and will sail within a week or two. He is coming here to prove his assertions that he has at last found a tuberculosis cure, and if he should fail, why there is nothing lost."

Mr. Finlay expects to hear within two or three days of the definite plans of Dr. Friedmann. He is glad that the Berlin specialist has accepted his offer.

"As regards Dr. Friedmann accepting the sum of $1,000,000, I can't see why it should raise such a fuss. If he has discovered a remedy he deserves to have the money," Mr. Finlay said.

Mr. Finlay said that Dr. Lawrence Brown of Saranac would probably conduct the tests, aided by such medical experts as he should choose.

sending Montenegro, and Dr. M. R. Vesnitch, Servian minister to France, with the addition of M. Politis of the delegation, owing to his knowledge of French and his thorough acquaintance with international law.

General lines were laid down on which the note is to be drafted, comprising the argument already set forth many times as to why the league demands the surrender of Adrianople and the Aegean islands as an indispensable condition to the conclusion of peace. That the policy of the allies is to gain time is patent and does not deceive anybody.

The delegates decided that the advantages to be derived from the resumption of hostilities would be in proportion to the risks they ran, and that they would not take that step unless absolutely forced to do so. It is realized that even a partial reverse would have grave moral and material consequences, apart from the loss of thousands of men.

In addition, the fact is not overlooked that there is danger of Roumania advancing from the rear and of Austria imposing on Serbia and Montenegro her conditions for remaining neutral. The only disadvantage in delaying decisive action is in keeping large armies inactive and on a war footing for a long time, thus heavily taxing both the financial and agricultural resources of the countries.

Abraham Flexner, whose reports on the medical schools in this country and in Europe are so well known, to study the social evil and the various methods of dealing with it in the leading cities of Europe.

"Based upon all of these studies, which will probably be published by December of this year, it is the hope of the bureau that there may be devised a practical plan for dealing with the social evil in New York city, a plan which public opinion can be brought to support."

Dormice Immune to Snake Bite.

Three animals have long been known to be immune to the bites of snakes—the pig, the porcupine and the mongoose. According to M. G. Billard, a naturalist of Clermont-Ferrand, France, the common or garden dormouse must be added to this list. This little animal does not hesitate to fight a viper and kill the reptile. Of course, he would be helpless if attacked by a big rattlesnake, for this would swallow him at one gulp. M. Billard injected four milligrams of dried viper poison into a dormouse with absolutely no effect. Half an hour after the injection the dormouse was nibbling an apple as if nothing had happened. The dormouse weighs only two ounces, and the amount of venom he received was enough to kill eleven pounds of such animals as rabbits and guinea pigs.

Aluminum Paper.

The manufacture of paper coated with aluminum as a substitute for tin-foil has begun to assume industrial importance. Within a year the Wickel process has been successfully applied in France to the metallizing, with aluminum, of paper of all thicknesses, from that of cigarette paper up to that of the sheets from which postal cards are made. Aluminum paper has the advantage over tin-foil that it contains no lead. It is suitable for enveloping all kinds of confectionery, for making paper boxes, and even for wall hangings. When used as wall-paper it possesses the admirable quality of being cleanable with a wet cloth or sponge.

At the time of the Spanish war an evening party was given in Germany. During the supper a young officer raised his mug of beer and said:

"My friends, this beer reminds me of the two nations at war. The rich, brown part is Spain, the white frothy part is America."

Whereupon a young American girl retorted.
"Well, you must admit that the froth is on top."

War Time Letter Box.

There is an interesting relic of the late civil war in Harrisburg in the post office box used by the soldiers camped at Second and Foster streets as a letter box. It is a wooden box that originally held a thousand cartridges, about 12 by 14 inches in size and 6 inches deep, and in the top is a slot in which letters were dropped. It had a hinged lid with lock, and stood in the headquarters tent, from which all mail was carried once a day. When the camp broke up the present owner of the box got it from the commandant and has kept it ever since, and it is in first class condition.
